

Bryant Barron, 14; Gr. 8
Stevenson Middle School
4350 W. 79th Street
Chicago, IL 60652

Why the American Flag is important to me?
December 1, 2009

The U.S. Flag

We the people of the United States of America are one. Each and every one of us stands by each other. If one of us falls, we help to bring him to the top. We are united together. Nothing is going to bring us down. We stand tall with the flag.

Along time ago, we had to fight for our freedom. This essay is my fight for blind individuals. I hope that they too can be acknowledged with a Braille flag. The flag was there when we got our freedom. The flag and our freedom is what unite us. It starts friendships with everyone across the world. Thank you for this freedom. Our nation under God keeps us believing and having hope.

We have a powerful army fighting for our country. Soldiers are honored when they die and should never be forgotten. When they lose their sight, they no longer can see the flag and may need assistance to post a flag outside of their homes. The blind veterans should be respected and shown the gratitude of their dedication by creating, hanging, and displaying a tactile Braille flag.